NATIONAL WAR FUND DRIVE

For Hancock County Opened Monday With Colorful Parade—Quota $3400.00

The National War Fund Drive for Hancock County opened on Monday, October 25 with a large and colorful parade which formed at the High School and marched through the business section of the city.

Behind the safety patrol car came the flags all in a row and leading the parade was the cadet band from the Marine Basic School at Henderson Point.

Riding in the parade were the city officials and marching were officers of the Civilian Defense and citizens Service Corps, American Red Cross representatives, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Air Raid Wardens and civilians.

The two high school bands—Bay High and St. Stanislaus lent color to the scene and the music gave cheer and pep.

Walker J. Gex, chairman of the drive for this county, Mrs. George R. Rea, city chairman, are working hard to see that the quota of $3400.00 is met by Nov. 5. They have a splendid line up of committees and everything is in readiness for the success of the drive.

Every resident of the county is well aware of the great need of money for the winning of this war. Most of the families have sons or daughters or both in the service. Those who have neither would hate to feel that some boy or girl suffered for the need of medicine, food, reading matter, cigarettes or anything which lends to their comfort because we could not raise the required amount of money.

It is often asked "What did you do in the war?" and Hancock County civilians should be able to answer "We never failed to raise the amount of money asked of us."

It is indeed a privilege to be allowed to contribute to a fund which is distributed through so many channels to so many in need.

Hancock County is near the end of the first week in the National War Fund Drive, with Walker J. Gex, county chairman, reporting that extra efforts must be exerted from now until November 5 if the county is to reach its quota.

"This is our own home campaign to help out the human side of the war effort," the chairman stated. "The money we contribute to the NWF relieves suffering at home, as well as among our service men and our allies."

MISS JOYCE BECKER VOLUNTEERS FOR ARMY SERVICE

The Annual, "Caps and Cakes" of the Charity Hospital Nursing School, New Orleans, for 1943, is a most creditable publication.

Miss Joyce Becker, of Bay St. Louis was editor and her room mate Miss Ruby Bourier of Hammond, La., was Art Editor.

The theme of the issue was "Memories" and touched on the activities of the three years of training for the class.

The drawings were done by Miss Bourier and are very fine.

Miss Becker was an honor student was a member of Sigma, Alpha Chi an honor sorority, won the first scholarship and was a convention delegate. She has volunteered for Army service and is waiting to be called.

BANQUET HONORING W. B. A. OFFICER

One of the loveliest and most enjoyable affairs given recently was the WBA banquet given at the home of Mrs. Annie Trapani honoring Mrs. Pearl Croy of Birmingham, supreme president and Miss Fay Arguelles of Biloxi, managing deputy of the Gulf Review.

The table was decorated with ferns and cut flowers and the National Colors were carried out in candles and favors.

It was a most delectable repast and the thirty members of WPB Bay St. Louis Review enjoyed themselves to the utmost and were loud in their praises of Mrs. Trapani's arrangement of the entertainment.

—Mrs. John Osinich who has been ill at the home of her sisters Mrs. Pearl Lindau and Mrs. Lillian Stringfield in New Orleans is expected home within the next few days.

—Mrs. F. J. Landry is in receipt of a message announcing the death of her brother-in-law Sidney Landry who died at his home in Slidell on Tuesday, October 26. He was 89 years of age and was the brother of F. J. Landry of this city.

SUPERVISOR CALVIN SHAW DIES

Ill For Several Months— Funeral Services Held Sunday Morning—In- terment in Crane Creek Cemetery

Calvin Shaw died at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, on Friday, October 22, following an illness of several months. He was a native of Hancock County the older Shaws being among the early residents of the county.

He was a member of the county board of supervisors from 1920 to 1928 and from 1932 to the time of his death having been re-elected in August 1943 election over strong opposition.

He is survived by his wife the former Miss Cenith Ladner; four daughters, Mrs. Celina Smith, Mrs. Zoia Guilotte, Mrs. Flora Thomas, Mrs. Birdie Stewart; seven sons, Purcell, Melvin, Walter, Johnson, Robert, Frank and Rosamond Shaw; 32 grandchildren, 3 great grandchildren, a brother Joseph Shaw, Sr. and a sister Miss Alice Shaw.

Funeral services were held on Sunday at 11 a. m. from his residence with services at the Crane Creek Baptist church conducted by Rev. Z. A. Polk of Picayune and Rev. W. C. Wyatt of Biloxi. Interment was in Crane Creek Cemetery.

His pall bearers were the remaining four members of the board: Messrs. Charles B. Murphy, Lander Neale, John B. Wheat and Ed Orte, Chancery Clerk A. G. Favre and Sheriff Horace L. Kerosien.

Mr. Shaw was very active and was interested in dairying and farming and was identified with all civic movements in the county.

"Uncle" Calvin is dead and there are many besides his immediate family who will miss him and his broad smile. His passing has left a void not easily filled.

His friends and the Echo are extending to the family deep sympathy in the loss of this fine husband and father.

FATHER OF CAPTAIN W. R. FITZCARR, JR. DIES

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Evans were surprised by wire Thursday morning of the death of Mr. W. R. Fitzcarr, father of Captain W. R. Fitzcarr, Jr., who was married here on Saturday to his daughter Miss Alice Vivian Evans. Mr. Fitzcarr's serious illness prevented his attending his son's wedding and his death was not unexpected.

The reception rooms were bright with colorful flowers and on the porches where the guests were seated held great quantities of yellow fall flowers in tall containers.

The place cards were designed with bouquets at each corner and the honoree's was designed with a miniature bride.

The bride-elect presented her maids with silver bracelets and Capt. Fitzcarr presented his groomsmen and ushers with gold key rings.

In the dining room where the guests served themselves was a table covered with a Madeira cloth and centered with a silver bowl filled with bride's roses with candles in silver holders throughout the room.

The guest list included the bride's friends and was one of the loveliest given during the week for the couple. There were approximately fifty guests.

...HONORS MISS ALICE VIVIAN EVANS WITH LUNCHEON
Mrs. Edouard Carrere was hostess on Friday at a luncheon at Hotel Reed honoring Miss Alice Vivian Evans who was married on Saturday evening.

The luncheon table was centered with a silver bowl filled with white asters and pompon chrysanthemums with the tall white candles held in silver candle sticks. White and silver baskets held the mints and the place cards were the miniature bride's maids in white and silver.

The honoree wore a lovely tulle gown of printed silk jersey worn with a small white hat and she was presented with a corsage of white gladioli. Mrs. Carrere wore a fall model of Royal blue worn with a black picture hat and Mrs. Evans wore a gown of fuchsia crepe with a hat of the same shade.

The guest list besides the honoree included Messdames J. A. Evans, A. P. Smith, T. T. Robin, Herbert G. Stone, W. Flem Dobyns, C. M. Shipp, Leo Seal, C. C. McDonald, Lieutenant Irene Goodyear, A. N. C. New Orleans, Misses Maxine Ledner, New Orleans, Shirley Smith, and Mary McDonald Kittrell, Bay St. Louis, Miss Lois Wright, of Gulfport.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN WAR FUND DRIVE ISSUES STATEMENT

Seeks To Clarify Situation As To Participants in Drive

Some confusion seems to have arisen in the minds of some of our people as to the purpose of the present War Fund Drive, and as to what agencies are participating therein.

In order to help clarify the situation we have contacted Mr. Walter J. Gex, Jr., County Chairman of the War Fund Drive, and he advises us that the following organizations participate in the War Fund Drive:

USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, British War Relief Society, Greek War Relief Association, Polish War Relief, United Yugoslav Relief Fund, French Relief Fund, Belgian War Relief Society, United Czechoslovak Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Norwegian Relief, Friends of Luxembourg, (Aid for special groups of refugees requiring relief which is unavailable by government), and United States Committee for the Care of European Children.

Mr. Gex, who is also County Chairman for the American Red Cross, is very anxious to make it clear to the people of Hancock County that the Red Cross does not receive any of the funds derived from the War Fund Drive. The Red Cross as an organization is not participating in the drive, but the individual members of the Red Cross are cooperating.

The annual drive for funds for the American Red Cross will probably be made some time in the Spring.

In all of their publicity the National War Fund Committee has stated and in many instances has listed the National and International Relief Organizations that are participating in this drive. Certainly any individual may find in this list an organization which he feels is helping to alleviate suffering of either our boys, or their allies, and every person should make some contribution to this great cause.

We have a quota of $3400.00 to raise in Hancock County, and as in all drives heretofore, WE MUST NOT FAIL.

MRS. BRIGGS AND MRS. WESTON ENTERTAIN JOINTLY FOR MISS EVANS

Among the many lovely pre-nuptial affairs given for Miss Alice Vivian Evans and Captain William Ross Fitzcarr, Jr., who were married here on Saturday was the luncheon given buffet style at the lovely home of Mrs. M. W. Briggs with Mrs. Briggs and her daughter Mrs. Harold B. Weston entertaining together.

It was in this home where the honoree spent her girlhood that her mother entertained for Mrs. Weston at a dinner preceding her wedding and Mrs. Weston was a joint hostess at a luncheon for Mrs. Evans' daughter.

The reception rooms were bright with colorful flowers and on the porches where the guests were seated held great quantities of yellow fall flowers in tall containers.

The place cards were designed with bouquets at each corner and the honoree's was designed with a miniature bride.

The bride-elect presented her maids with silver bracelets and Capt. Fitzcarr presented his groomsmen and ushers with gold key rings.

MEETING AT KILN IN INTEREST OF GROWING OF PULPWOOD

Mr. Julian Chouest of Lakeshore, is in receipt of a letter from Earl Porter, General Supt. Woodlands Dept. International Paper Company announcing a meeting at Kiln on Monday, November 1 at 7:30 P. M. in the interest of the growing of pulpwood by the landowners of the county.

A program is planned and the meeting is open to white and negroes. The object of the meeting is to interest the landowners in the production of pulpwood and there is a scarcity of this wood and it is needed for war purposes.

It is hoped that a large number will attend this meeting. Pulpwood is one of the raw materials necessary for the manufacture of war materials that are made from farm crops including wood and the producing of it should be of interest to all loyal Americans.

The program follows: 7:45 p. m. Introduction; Greetings—2 minutes; 7:47 Motion Picture, varied subjects—38 minutes; 8:25—Southern Kraft Picture, "Manufacture of Pulpwood Into Final Use, 35 minutes; 9:00—Timber Conservation Picture, 20 minutes; 9:20, Speakers; War Veterans, County Agent, Area Forester—5 minutes each; 9:35 Further Explanation of display of pulpwood products.

RED CROSS

Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross is in receipt of the following letter, addressed to Camp and Hospital Council of Hancock County.

"The Officers and enlisted personnel of this organization wish to take this opportunity of thanking your council for the wonderful work done in renovating our Day Room.

Your time and efforts are sincerely appreciated by all who benefit by the cheery atmosphere created.

On behalf of myself and all personnel we wish to commend you for a most patriotic gesture that reflects the kind and patriotic spirit for our welfare in our moments of relaxation.

In the event we can be of any assistance in any way, please do not hesitate to call on us and you can rely upon our whole-hearted cooperation.

With kindest regards, I remain,

Very truly yours,

CHAS. S. ALLEN, Captain.

C. P. T. Air Corps Commanding.

The above letter speaks for itself showing the deep appreciation of the men at Gulfport Field who enjoy the Day Room which was made possible by the donations of Bay St. Louis organizations and citizens of our city and county.

...The meeting date of the Executive Board of Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been changed to the last Wednesday of each month at 3 P. M. and all members are asked to take special notice of this.

Anthony J. Piazza, Jr., In- jured in Plane Crash

Anthony J. Piazza, Jr., Army Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Piazza, Sr., of this city was slightly injured on Wednesday of last week in a plane crash.

Cadet Piazza and his instructor were on a cross country flight from Bannockville, South Carolina where young Piazza is in training. His instructor was piloting the plane and in attempting to make a landing crashed into telephone wires. Piazza suffered lacerations of the face necessitating ten stitches being taken over his eye and above his chin.

He told his father whom he called over the phone, that he was rendered unconscious and when he regained consciousness he was in the hospital. He said he had no information concerning the instructor nor how badly the plane was damaged. All this was withheld from him and he did not give the name of the city where the accident occurred.

Mr. Piazza said his son assured him that he was not seriously injured and that he would communicate with him in a few days.

—Out of town guests here for the Pittman-Evans wedding on Saturday were Messdames O. E. Heiderman, H. B. Jefferies, C. C. Clark, F. A. CALVIN SHAW

HANCOCK County has suffered the loss of one of its outstanding citizens. On last Sunday morning funeral services were held at the Crane Creek Baptist Church for Honorable Calvin Shaw, a member of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County.

Mr. Shaw was first elected as a member of the Board of Supervisors in 1919 and assumed office in January, 1920. In the election of 1927 he was defeated by a few votes and in 1931 he was again elected and held office until his death. He was re-elected in the August Primaries of this year for a new term. Born and reared in the community in which he lived, this man was loved by his people. He gave his all to them. Worldly goods meant very little to Calvin Shaw. In fact, he probably gave away what would constitute a modest fortune. He alone knew the charities that he performed. During the dark days of the depression he probably contributed more to the aid and support of people of his section of the county than any other man.

All who knew and who were closely associated with him loved and admired him. He did not have the great advantages of extensive schooling, however, he had plain common sense and good judgment. He had a sense of loyalty and love for his fellow man. In his eyes his friends were seldom wrong. The men who opposed him politically admired him. They may have differed in opinion from him, but he respected their right to this. The high esteem in which he was held by his people was evidenced by the fact that hundreds attended the funeral services to pay their last respects; and many a wet eye could be viewed in the church house—people not related to him.

The editor of this paper has lost in the death of Mr. Calvin Shaw, one of his best friends, a friendship that existed prior to the time that Mr. Shaw entered public office. We always cherished that friendship, and we shall continue to cherish his memory.

The people of his community have sustained the loss of one of its esteemed citizens and the people of Hancock County have suffered the loss of a good public official.

A GREAT RECORD

THE people of Hancock County have a justifiable reason to feel proud of their efforts in the Third War Loan Campaign. The final report on the Third War Loan Drive taken from statistics furnished by the Federal Reserve Banks, shows that Hancock County led the State in percentage of quota sold.

The total amount of bonds sold and credited to Hancock County amounted to $649,042.00, which was 189.8% of its quota. The total amount of E bonds sold was $213,087.00. F and G Bonds amounted to $72,004.00; 2% Bonds totalled $265,500; $500.00 of 2 1/2% Bonds and $98,000.00 of 7 1/8% Tax Notes were sold.

The nearest county to us in percentage of quota sold was Madison County, with 171.3%.

Much has been said and much will probably be said as to the organization of workers and the work of different individuals who actively participated in the Bond Drive, but, nevertheless, we should not overlook the fact that the ones who were directly responsible for the success of the bond drive were the people of the county as a whole who so generously responded to the appeal made to them to invest their money in their government's bonds. To these people should go all of the credit for the splendid showing made by Hancock County.

We have on numerous occasions praised the people of the county for their patriotism and for the "Never die" spirit that exists among them. As we all know, we have yet to fail to meet any quota that has been placed upon us in any drive in the war effort. This is a splendid record and is one that the people of Hancock County should feel proud of. It can be truthfully said that the people of Hancock County are back of their boys in service.

Many of us cannot join the armed forces and carry on the fight in the battles, but there are many things at home where we can lend our assistance and many things that we can do that will help in a material manner the boys who are actually engaged in combat; and when one makes casual survey of the county he finds many of its people engaged in some worthwhile work necessary to the war effort.

The people of Hancock County usually go about their affairs very quietly. We believe that sometimes we are probably just a little too quiet for our own good. The people of the county are not the shouting type. They are happy in their surroundings, very tolerant and very liberal minded, which makes them a thoroughly patriotic people.

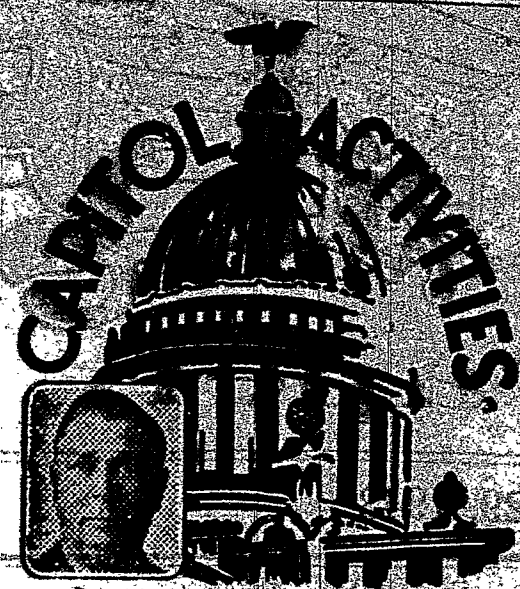

We exercise the right to fight among ourselves, but always bear in mind that we must join together to fight a common enemy. We hope that this spirit will continue to exist, and we say again that the people of the county should feel a justifiable pride in the record that they have established in the war effort.

Every individual requires some relaxation; the trouble is that some people don't know how to get it.

Hard work never hurts anybody, so we are told, but if this is true then it must scare some people to death.

Well, we can be thankful this year that we don't have to worry about which Thanksgiving day to observe.

There are two views as to the length of the war; one is optimistic, the other pessimistic. You can take your choice.

WALKER WOOD

Successful Fair

The Mississippi State Fair was held in Jackson during the week, October 21-26, and was pronounced a splendid success to the field under adverse conditions. The City Administration with Rex Magee as manager put over a fine job. Already plans are being made for the 1944 Fair in October of next year. The special attraction at the Fair this year was the livestock—the cattle. These cattle, however, were not all Mississippi products, but were brought to Jackson from several different states. The national organization of the Polled Herefords was held in Jackson during Fair Week. Many of the Herefords were brought to Mississippi for sale and were sold at auction. A total of 168 animals were sold and brought an average price of $777.00 each. The highest price paid for an animal was $3,550 for a Kansas cow. The entire sale chalked up $129,505. The entire show at the Fair will most certainly encourage Mississippi farmers to give more attention to beef cattle. The exhibit of war implements and guns was very interesting and very instructive.

Former Governor Honored

The Delta Shipbuilding Co., of New Orleans, launched its 81st cargo vessel on October 18th. It was launched as the S. S. Albert Brown, named in honor of a distinguished Mississippian who served as governor from 1844 to 1848. He also served in both houses of Congress and in the Confederate Congress. At one time he was seriously considered as a candidate for President of the United States on the Democratic ticket. During the latter years of his life he lived in the community of Terry, a few miles south of Jackson. His political career was one of unbroken success, as he was never defeated for office. His success is a good omen for the ship.

Distinguished Doctor

One of Mississippi's most distinguished physicians passed on when Dr. P. W. Rowland of Oxford died last week. At the age of 82 Dr. Rowland was still active and alert. He had served for 40 years as a member of the faculty of the University Medical School. He served his community and state well as physician and citizen.

tion has integrated a system of tree farming, in which trees will be planted and cultivated after the manner of a crop, except that the trees will not have to be planted annually as corn is. Such a system will hasten the growth of the tree and it will be an experiment interesting to watch and check on for results.

Legislators Entertained

Senator and Mrs. Paul Cato, of Union Church in Jefferson county, informally entertained members of the incoming legislature, House and Senate, in their home a few days ago. It was just a social get-acquainted party so they all know each other better when they come to Jackson for law-making duties.

Senator Dies

Senator Wiley W. Dearman, of Lamar County, died on Saturday, October 16th, at his home in Baxterville, of a heart ailment which had bothered him for some time. Senator Dearman was in his 66th year. He had been a very active member of the present senate.

Big Program Outlined

Mayor Scott of Jackson has outlined a program of expansion for the Capital City after the war is over. Among other things it is proposed that a 600-acre park be opened up just north of Bailey Junior high school, that would locate the part on state land known as the "Old Asylum Tract." The plan outlined by the mayor calls for the extension of several streets and the erection of public buildings and bridges, and the program is estimated to cost approximately $16,000,000, which would be put up by the taxpayers of the city.

Forest Fires—Don't Start Them

Help your state to prevent destroying millions by fires. Burning off woodland does not destroy boll weevils as many believe.

Library Association Meets

The executive board of the Mississippi Library Association has completed plans for a one-day meeting of the Mississippi Library Association, Friday, December 3, at the Heidelberg Hotel, Jackson. The theme of the meeting will be "Libraries Today and in the Postwar World." Books are needed to help adults solve the problems in a democracy at war as well as to give background information of our allies and enemy. Books must be available to assist in every phase of postwar planning, particularly in our international relationship—social, economic, and political, as well as to meet the normal needs of children and youth who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

The annual report recently compiled in the State Library Commission shows that 30 percent of the population is without library service. Mississippi spends five cents per capita State-wide for library services, and there is less than 1/5 of a book per capita. Plans for more and better library service will be discussed at the State meeting. Librarians throughout the State are urged to attend.

The members of the executive committee are Miss Roberts, Librarian, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

YOUR SON?

You wouldn't knowingly give information which would cause the death of your son. But how would you feel if you saw him gasping for a last breath and then disappearing forever with only a cap to mark his grave? It's not pleasant to think about, but remember that picture when you start to spread a little "inside dope." Remember also if it's not your son it's someone else's son you may be sending to death. Speak of nothing except what you hear on the radio or read in the papers.

REMEMBER The information you give unwisely may Cause many LOST LIVES!

CARDUI

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernethy always said: "Curiosity may kill a cat—but I'm no cat." Which is Sam's way of saying that when he's curious about something he goes out and gets the facts.

Seems our government feels the same way. After hearing rumors about our soldiers drinking too much—government people went after the facts. They got the evidence on what our boys drink... and don't drink.

The government found out our Army's the best behaved in history. More'n half of 'em drink beer—nothing stronger. And the government found that selling 3.2 beer in Army camps is one reason why our Army is so temperate.

From where I sit, there isn't much cause to worry about our men in the Army. Looks like they can take care o' themselves—and take care o' the Nazis and the Japs, too.

HELP SAVE OUR FIGHTING FUELS

Saving electricity means saving coal, oil, or gas which is used to produce it. While there is no shortage of electricity, our government has asked conservation of electricity, along with other vital services, in order that reduction in the use of electricity may save fuel, manpower, transportation, equipment, and critical materials. This is a voluntary program and rationing has not been invoked to secure compliance but the need is great. We urge you to avoid every non-essential use of electricity so that our "Fighting Fuels" may meet every essential need.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SAVING ELECTRICITY

AT HOME. Don't leave lights on when they are not needed. Turn the radio off when you are not actually listening to it. Open the refrigerator door as few times as possible. Don't leave toaster, iron, percolator on longer than necessary, and see that cords and plugs are kept in good condition. Don't waste hot water from your electric heater.

IN STORE OR BUSINESS. Avoid waste in every form. Use electricity for essential purposes but don't use it for non essentials. A detailed list of the various means of saving electricity suggested by the government has been sent to you. Some economies in the use of electric service can be achieved by industrial plants without adversely effecting production.

THE WAR PRODUCTION BOARD IS NOT ASKING FOR ANY REDUCTION IN NECESSARY MILITARY, AVIATION AND POLICE LIGHTING, OR LIGHTING ESSENTIAL TO PUBLIC HEALTH, INCLUDING EYESIGHT CONSERVATION AND SAFETY, PLANT PROTECTION, TRANSPORTATION AND PRODUCTION PURPOSES.

If you desire any further information on this conservation program, we will appreciate your advising us.

We Still Have a Big Job, Johnny

...and We'll Win for YOU!

Yes, Private Jones and his millions of buddies in arms will win... because they know they must win... for themselves, for Johnny and for all America.

Initial successes do not necessarily mean a quick victory. There's still a long road to go... not a straight one, either. It cannot be traveled by the complacent... it takes men and women—all of us—working all the time, to back up our fighting men... for Victory.

The Gulf South is driving ahead with the full power of its vast natural resources and the industries which are utilizing them. It is working with all America for the ultimate victory. And when victory comes, as it must, the Gulf South will do its part to convert to peace-time progress.

'THE CONSTANT NYMPH' AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

The romantic story which made Margaret Kennedy's novel a best-seller of the late Twenties emerges, under the skillful handling of Henry Blanke and Edmund Goulding, producer and director of the new screen version, with much of its original appeal intact. The moving performance of Chas. Boyer and Joan Fontaine have a timeless quality.

The production has been elaborately conceived with settings and musical background matching in quality a supporting cast including Charles Coburn, Brenda Marshall, Peter Lorre and Dame May Whitty. The music by Erich Wolfgang Korngold deserves special mention forming as it does a secondary theme of unusual interest and beauty.

Charles Boyer's portrayal of "Lewis Dodd," the composer, is another of the suave and sensitive characterizations which his admirers have come to expect. But it is Joan Fontaine who essays the more difficult role and reaches, at times, the dramatic peaks. Expressing both the childish impulsiveness and emotional maturity of "Tessa," she achieves a unique appeal, of spiritual rather than physical beauty. Alexis Smith, as the girl whom Boyer marries, gives a striking impression of poise and confidence of a none too sympathetic role. Peter Lorre, Charles Coburn, Brenda Marshall, and Joyce Reynolds all lend fine support.

Goulding's direction admirably sustains the ethereal mood of the early mountain scenes, caught by Tony Gaudio's fine camera work, and strikes a more modern note in the final scenes than the original story seemed to allow. Credit for this should go also to Kathryn Scola, who wrote the screenplay from the novel and play by Margaret Kennedy and Basil Dean.

Seen in the home office projection room. Reviewer's Rating: Excellent.

Training For War

When we read of the victories of our armed forces at Guadalcanal, New Guinea, Tunisia, Sicily or Italy, we are inclined to accept these victories as a matter of course. More-over, we are apt to hastily conclude that these battles are won because of the superiority of the American soldier over the enemy and treat such successes lightly. I fear that we do not realize the many hours and days of toil and sweat and sacrifice these boys who constitute our armed forces spend in preparation in this country that insure their victories on the far-flung battle fronts of the globe.

We have just returned from a two-day flying trip to Camp Shelby, as the guest of the Assistant Secretary of War, the Honorable John J. McCloy. Upon arrival at Camp Shelby we were shown all over the camp.

We followed these American boys in their strenuous training program for the victories to come. We followed the individual soldier as he walked through the swamps and blackjacks with his rifle swung in both hands at his hip, on the alert. We saw the dummy targets as they appeared suddenly and startlingly from the thickets. And we saw the soldier as he fired on these targets with his rifle in that position without time to place it to his shoulder—all simulating actual jungle warfare. We stood on the crest of a hill and were shown a target some two miles distant. We observed clean-shaven young artillery officers in their early twenties, computing the distance, elevation, and other obstacles. We heard the cannon fire some 200 yards back of us, and then we heard the shells screaming as they passed overhead, and actually saw some of them hurling through space. And then we witnessed the shells exploding over the target, scattering their death-like missiles over the terrain. The accuracy of these young artillerymen was amazing.

Again, we stood on the edge of a ridge between two branches and saw the troops deploying in patrols from their positions on each side of the ridge creeping forward, falling, rolling over from the position in which they fell to another position to prevent a possible observant enemy from firing at the spot at which they fell. The advance toward their objective, again obstructed by dummy targets which appeared as if by magic from the ground, was both strenuous and realistic. In fact, the tracer bullets which these men fired from behind trees, stumps and bushes immediately after falling to the ground could be observed to hit the targets. So realistic and strenuous was this training episode that one soldier sustained a minor fracture of his leg as he fell astride a stump.

We saw the German prisoners interned there, at work under heavy guard around the Camp and in their own stockade. They were fine specimens of young men physical manhood, fair-headed, rosy cheeked, and many of them appearing to be in their teens. These men were all captured in Africa or Sicily and were a part of Rommel's African Korps. They gave the impression of being in fine physical condition and appeared to be most industrious workers. For them the war is over.

Possibly one of the most interesting highlights of our visit was a review and inspection of the Japanese-American Regiment. All of these men are American citizens, and more than 90 per cent of them are from Hawaii. Each one of them had been previously checked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation from the date of his birth to determine his loyalty. All of them seem to dislike being called Japs and are proud of their citizenship. They are officered mostly by white officers. We privately asked a number of these white officers what they thought of these soldiers, and without exception they praised them as to conduct and military astuteness.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the 100th Regiment (Japanese-Americans) was trained at Camp Shelby and was recently highly praised by General Mark Clark, and subsequently by Secretary Stimson, for their splendid showing under fire in the Salerno, Italy, engagement.

Thus an acute problem of what to do with these Americans of Japanese descent has been turned into a distinct advantage of our cause against the enemy. (They are not being used to fight the Japanese. But already the Japanese propagandists in Japan are at a loss to explain to the Japanese people why those American Japanese are fighting for America.)

The people of Hattiesburg and vicinity are to be congratulated upon the fine spirit of cooperation which has been demonstrated in the handling of this difficult problem.

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY 'HERS TO HOLD'

Deanna Durbin, Joseph Cotton, Co-Starred

"Hers to Hold" considered one of the year's most significant romantic dramas, comes to the Ortie Theatre Sunday and Monday. Deanna Durbin is co-starred with Joseph Cotton in the new Universal production. Charles Winninger, Evelyn Ankers and Gus Schilling have outstanding roles in the impressive cast.

Enthusiastic advance reports indicate that the picture is an unequalled triumph for Miss Durbin and the selection of Joseph Cotton to be her leading man was a happy studio choice. The story's logical timeliness, too, is said to enhance the film's unusual appeal.

Deanna, it is declared, has the best role of her remarkable screen career. She appears as a debutante who goes to work in a war industry and finds romance as well as the satisfaction of serving her country. Cotton portrays an Army flyer whose loyalty to the service very nearly thwarts his devotion to the girl he must leave behind. Climactic sequences, announcements say, have more serious dramatic depth than any in which Miss Durbin has previously appeared.

Nella Walker and Ludwig Stossel are others in the cast and the formidable production staff lists such names as Frank Ryan, the director, Felix Jackson, producer, Lewis A. Foster, scenarist, John D. Klorer, story author and Frank Shaw, associate producer.

Of particular interest are realistic scenes which were photographed inside the mighty Vega Aircraft plant at Burbank, California.

MISS ALICE VIVIAN EVANS AND CAPT. WM. R. PITCAIRN MARRIED SATURDAY EVENING

The marriage of Miss Alice Vivian Evans, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Evans of this city and Captain William Ross Pitcairn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross Pitcairn of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, was solemnized on Saturday evening, October 23 at 8 p. m. at the Main Street Methodist Church before a large gathering of relatives and friends. The Rev. C. C. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Gulfport, and Rev. E. L. Samples performing the ceremony.

Pre-nuptial music was played by Mrs. J. Briscoe Goldman, organist and Mrs. Catherine Thomas, violinist. Proceeding the entrance of the bride party, Mr. Ira C. Gerg, Wayne, Indiana, sang "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Because." The bride party entered to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's march was played for the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiantly beautiful in a wedding gown made with a torso of Chantilly lace with the long over-the-hand sleeve and the sweet heart neck and full skirt of ivory satin with a long train. The long circular veil of illusion was held to the head by a halo effect cap of heirloom lace, held in place with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of bride roses, stephanotis centered with an orchid and her only ornament was a string of pearls.

The couple plighted their troth before an altar set with great quantities of white chrysanthemums held in the tall standard baskets with a background of potted palms and southern smilax. The seven branched candelabra holding the white candles extended across the chancel and the double ring ceremony was performed by candle light.

The bride had as her maid of honor Miss Mary McDonald Kittrell who wore a dress of dusty rose taffeta made with the bouffant skirt and sweetheart neck and she carried the cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses tied with a wide band of American beauty ribbon. The bridesmaids were Misses Irene Goodyear and Maxine Lederer of New Orleans whose gowns were the same as the maid of honor's and they carried the cascade bouquets of asters in old rose shade tied with the wide American Beauty ribbon. All wore the long white gloves.

Little Betty Evelyn and Mary Jane Boyd were flower girls and wore the floor length dresses of white tulle over white satin made with the off-the-shoulder neck and the deep pink ribbon sashes. They carried baskets made of satin and tulle and filled with the painted daisies.

Peter Hairston, Jr., of Crawford, Miss., cousin of the bride dressed in an Army captain's uniform carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Captain Pitcairn had as his best man Private H. M. McCully, Jr., of Pittsburg and as his groomsmen Lieutenant Harold Ogles of Frankfort, Kentucky and Lieutenant E. W. Hostetter, Huntington, West Virginia. The ushers were James A. Evans, Jr., brother of the bride and Edward Porter, Fred McDonald and Jack Bourgeois, all of Bay St. Louis.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High and of the Young School of Nursing, New Orleans and has always been a general favorite both here and in New Orleans. One of her chief charms has always been her adjustment of older people.

Capt. Pitcairn is a graduate of the Carnegie Tech School of Engineering and is an instructor in Camp Shelby.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on North Beach where Mrs. Evans was receiving in a lovely evening gown of gray lace and chiffon worn with a shoulder corsage of orchids. Receiving with her was her sister Mrs. Herbert G. Stone of Kingsport, Tennessee, and her sisters-in-law Mrs. J. S. Hollingsworth, Columbus, Miss.; Mrs. I. C. Dimmick, Lake Charles, La.; Mrs. W. Flem Doherty, of Kingsport, Tenn.; Mrs. W. B. Thompson, New Orleans.

The reception rooms of the home were beautifully arranged with the tall floor basket with white asters, chrysanthemums and roses. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth with the silver candle holders holding white candles and centered with the four-tiered wedding cake which the bride cut with a sword.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Sara Frances Clark of Gulfport and the tea girls were Miss Audrey Virginia Thompson, New Orleans, Misses Mary Frances and Betty Dimmick, Lake Charles, La., cousins of the bride and Misses Gene Robin, Shirley Smith and Virginia Seal, and Lucy Weston.

The couple left for a trip to Asheville, North Carolina, to visit Captain Pitcairn's family and from there they were going to Washington, D. C.

For traveling the bride wore a suit dress of black wool trimmed in gold worn with a small black hat and black and gold accessories.

To this young couple the Echo is extending best wishes for a happy life and an early happy where there is no war or rumors of war.

HOSTESSES AT REHEARSAL DINNER

Messdames C. C. McDonald, Leo Seal, T. T. Robin and A. P. Smith were hostesses at the rehearsal dinner honoring Miss Alice Vivian Evans and Captain William Ross Pitcairn, Jr., who were married on Saturday evening.

The buffet dinner was given at Hotel Reed with the guest list including the bride party and the out of town relatives here for the wedding.

The dining room was aglow with lights and the two luncheon tables each one laid for 25 guests were centered with Madiera center pieces on which rested silver bowls filled with the pale yellow marigolds. The place cards were of the white and silver, and the small nut cups held tiny gold wish bones.

The buffet table from which the guests served themselves was set with silver and a tall silver bowl held yellow roses. Silver candle sticks held the tall yellow candles. The honoree's youthful beauty was enhanced by a red evening gown and a shoulder corsage of white roses.
